Introduction

Through this guide, you can view the console commands in the game and learn how they are used.

To use console commands, you must first open the chat window (ENTER on keyboard) and type `devCommandsOn`. Then you can activate cheats by typing `cheatsOn`. To turn off commands, you must open the chat window and type `devCommandsOff`.

You can learn the commands you can use by continuing the guide. Unfortunately not all commands are available to use yet, they will be added as they are discovered.

Warning! Do not use brackets, they are only there to specify the part of the command.

When you need to use a command that requires x and z coordinates, you can check your current coordinates by activating debug mode (below).
Capitalization matters.

Changing the game's speed

Command: changeSpeed <New Speed>

Changing chunk distance level

Command: chunkDistance

You can adjust the distance of chunks you can see with the chunkDistance command.
You can view the difference between 1 and 15 on the example below.

Locking your cursor on compass

Command: compassLock

Normally your compass moves when you move, when you use this command it locks the compass.

Immediately completing NPC quests

Command: completeNPC <NPC ID>

Completes the quest given by the NPC whose ID is specified. Check above for all NPC IDs.

Immediately completing all active quests

Command: completeQuests

Making seasonal crops grow in all seasons

Command: cropsGrowAllSeasons

It allows seasonal crops to grow in all seasons.

Activating debug mode

Command: debug

Spawning one of every furniture in the game

Command: dropAllFurniture

Activating free camera mode

Command: freeCam

It activates the free camera mode, the Z key does the same.

Unlocking all undiscovered pedia content

Command: fullPedia

Giving yourself 1.000 dinks

Command: giveGift

Completing & unlocking milestones

Command: giveMilestone

Each time you use it, it completes one level of milestone or unlocks a new one.

Increasing your dinks

Command: giveMoney <Amount>

Gives you the specified amount of dink(s).

I have 200,000 dinks here.

Increasing your permit points

Command: givePoints <Amount>

Gives you the specified amount of Permit Points.

Changing hair colour

Command: hairColour <Hair Color ID>

It allows you to change your hair color. Experiment with IDs.

Hiding the guide

Command: hideGuide

It is used to hide the guide.

Hiding the HUD for screenshots

Command: hideHud

It is used to hide the HUD, perfect for screenshots.

Maximizing your relationship with NPCs

Command: maxRelation <NPC ID>

Maximizes your relationship with the specified NPC, please check above for NPC IDs.

Making NPCs move in to your town

Command: moveInNPC <NPC ID>

When you use this command, it will be like you placed the deed of that NPCs house or workspace. You'll have to provide the materials and wait for the lot to be built. You'll need a couple of days for that.

Please check above for NPC IDs.

Automatically skipping to the next day

Command: nextDay

Allows you to proceed to the next day, also saves the game.

Committing changes of the day without skipping a day

Command: nextDayChange

It commits the changes of the next day without skipping the day.

Turning on noclip

Command: noClip

Lets you use noclip but in my experience, you can't actually move. It only works as a way of making yourself invisible.

Turning on noclip (With no follow mode)

Command: noClipNoFollow

Lets you use noclip, you can see your character move but you are like an observer. Perfect for screenshots.

Placing items

Command: placeItem <Item ID>

Spawns the specified item. Experiment with IDs. You can also use the spawn list, check above for it. The only difference is when you spawn it from the list, it will be in your inventory. When you spawn it using this command, it'll be already placed.

Command: placeItemFix <Item ID>

I couldn't see any difference between them and the previous command placeItem. P.S. Please let me know if you know the difference in the comments.

Random clothing

Command: randomClothing

It makes your character change clothes randomly.

P.S. You need to use stopRandom command to stop it.

Randomising your character

Command: randomiseCharacter

Changes your character randomly, once.

Renaming your island

Command: renameIsland <Name>

Allows you to rename your island.

Resetting the insides of your house

Command: resetHouse

Saving anywhere, anytime

Command: save

It saves your game, you don't have to sleep. When you come back to the game, there will be a save point. Perfect for saving the game in the middle of the game day.

Changing your relationship with your animals

Command: setAnimalRel

Changes your relationships with your animals.

Full hearts for all animals: setAnimalRel 100

Setting the calendar to a spesific date

Command: setDate <Day> <Week> <Month> <Year>

Setting the game time to a spesific hour

Allows you to spawn farm animals. Please check above for farm animal IDs.

Spawning NPCs

Command: spawnNpc <NPC ID>

Allows you to spawn NPCs. Please check above for NPC IDs.

Spawning items you carry over your head

Command: spawnCarry <ID>

It spawns things you generally carry over your head such as a fossil. In that case, the command is spawnCarry 05 and a fossil will be at your avatar's feet. Experiment with IDs.

Disabling random cloth change

Command: stopRandom

Forcing a lightning strike

Command: strikeLightning <X> <Z>

Lightning strikes at the point you specify.

Teleporting

Command: teleport <X> <Z>

Allows you to teleport to the specified point.

Unlocking all the recipes

Command: unlockRecipes

Allows you to get all the crafting recipes. Including the deeds (which are not initially craftable).

Refreshing map

Command: scanMap

If you're doing something like adding grass, making paths, bridges, etc. or moving stuff around town and it's not refreshing on your map, use that and it'll update it.

Thanks NEMESXS for this information!

Also if you use it in the mine it will reveal the whole map, but it doesn't show where the stone pillars are.

Commands that don't work
